

Our school trip to Toata

We went to Toata to see the team of the Netherlands training for the world cup.

We were 3 high schools : Henry Hiro, Pirae (I guess) and us. When we arrived we saw a player hurt by the sand. He is from Holland, and he doesn't speak English very well, but he speaks Spanish fluently. The others were training. First, they gave us a poster with every player on it and their autograph. Then, they gave us their own photo with an autograph and pins. Finally, I interviewed one of them and asked him the following questions :

1) What is your favorite sport : Football or Beach Soccer ? Why ?

- I prefer Beach Soccer, of course ! Much more feeling when you shoot.

2) What do you think about Tahiti ?

- I love it. Really warm. In the Netherlands it's not warm, it's quite cold.

3) If you had the opportunity, would you come back for holidays ?

- Sure !

Then we all moved to the shadow, not to get sunburned. We (not everyone) watched them training. They worked really hard. I've learnt that they speak 5 languages at least. They are really smart ! I forgot to ask 2 questions, so I asked the Paraguay's team when they arrived :

4) How do you manage not to get sand into your eyes ?

- When someone gets sand into one's eyes, a nurse comes and clean the eyes with water.

5) I know you are put up in Moorea, do you have some trouble ?

- Yes, we do. In Paraguay we just have 2 lakes and some rivers. So when we come to Tahiti, we get into trouble with the shuttle boat on the sea, seasick you know !
